Grant Will Help Fight Crime Here

Organized crime in Monterey, Santa Cruz, and San Benito counties is the target of a new unit being formed with the aid of a $57,000 grant from the California Council on Criminal Justice.

The grant, contingent upon completion of legal arrangements between the Council and county officials, was announced by Robert H. Lawson, executive director of the Council staff in Sacramento. The Council, headed by Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger, is the state planning agency responsible for administering and coordinating Federal anti-crime programs, including those under the Omnibus Crime Control Act.

Under direction of the Santa Cruz county district attorney's office, the new Tri-County Organized Crime Information Council will collect intelligence regarding organized crime and make the information available to law enforcement agencies within the tri-county area.

Council staff will be drawn from police and sheriff's departments, district attorney offices, and from state and federal law enforcement agencies in the region.

Many Help MakeChristmas Happy at Ord

The Christmas Season at Fort Ord has been marked by a sharing with others. The various wives clubs, officer and non-commissioned officer, and brigade have all hosted parties for the less fortunate. These groups have also supervised collection of canned goods which were donated to the needy through the Salvation Army.

The youngsters on the post, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Girl Scouts as well as other youth organizations have all made collections of food and toys for children who would be without on Christmas. Many children from off-post have been brought on the installation for a brief share of the Fort Ord Christmas spirit as various units held parties for the children who might have no other parties.

In turn, groups from off-post have brought joy and Christmas cheer to the shut-ins at the Silas B. Hays Army Hospital. Choral groups from the Navy Post Graduate School; the Pentecostal Church of God, Seaside; the Salinas Legion Juniors; the Seaside High School Student Council; and the Later Day Saints from Santa Cruz, all presented Christmas carols for the hospitalized.

In addition to the caroling the Junior Red Cross Club of Holister held a Ward party complete with hostesses and refreshments. The Seaside High Student Council also brought "goodies" for the sick.

Convention Is Success

The probing question that Floyd A. Kite, District Overseer in Central California, spoke on at the semi-annual circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses was "Is This Life All There Is?". This discourse dealt with many scriptures in the Bible dealing with the resurection of the human dead back to life here on earth. Kite said: "If God can place in a single microscopic cell the DNA molecules that can'remember' all the tremendously complicated instructions for the production and growth of a person, then He certainly has the capacity to remember the life pattern and characteristics of a person, if he chooses to do so, and recreate that person, providing a suitable body and restoring thoughts and personality in a resurrection."

The 1,g10 in attendance paid particular attention to his statement, "Life today can escape dying! The question remains about each of us today, 'Will God find me worthy of preservation into His new order?", then he added, "There are many of us now living that won't have to die at all."

The two - day assembly held at the Santa Cruz County Fairgrounds in Watsonville on December 16 and 17, was a complete success with peacefulness and cooperation in evidence at all of the various programs.

One highlight of the convention was the ordination ceremony on Sunday morning when 66 new ministers were baptized by complete immersion in water.

HONORED - At ceremonies held at Del Rey Oaks City Hall, Mayor Charles enson congratulates Edward Johnson (center), 18, of Marina and Glenn Hayworth, 18, of Del Rey Oakls for receiving Eagle Scout awards. Both are members of FotoPost 70, Explorer unit of young adults interested in field of photography. Both recipients are members of freshman class at Monterey Peninsula College. Also honored at ceremony was James McNitte, who earned Eagle rank while member of FotoPost. Son of RADM Robert W. McNitt, he now lives in Annapolis, Maryland, and was unable to attend.

Professor Karlheinze E. O. Woehler of the Physics Department, has been re-elected by his associates as the Chairman of the Faculty at the Naval Postgraduate School. He will reign over the Faculty Council for a 12-month period.

The members of the faculty elected to the Executive Board are Professor Abraham Sheingold, Electrical Engineering; Professor R.A. Reinhardt, Material Science and Chemistry; and Professor James M. Fermgen, Operations Research and Admin Sciences. Associate Professor Alvian F. Andrus, Operations Research and Admin Sciences, is the Secretary of the FACULTY.

The object of the faculty council is to promote understanding and communication between its members and members of the Administrative Staff, to protect the professional stature of the members, and to assist the administration in accomplishing the mission of the Navy school.

Inspirations

by Min. Elijah Williams

After God almighty had created this world and living creatures moved upon the face of the earth and had made man, God said, "That's Good." Man shaped in God's image and likeness, pleased God. Everything was in order, even man himself. God chose where that man should rule the earth and everything dewlling therein.

God loved man and gave him everything he needed, including a helper. God loved them both even though they committed a sinful act. God blessed them to bring forth children of their own kind. The moe blessing men received, the more responsible he became to God.

It has been said that this is a woman's world. Not so. The responsibility in many areas of life have been placed or shifted to the woman. Every man will stand before God to give in account of the condition of the world. Men will answer one by one, why we allowed our own families to turn to this world's excitement of life with no rrom for Christ.

Because of our indifference to God, there is very little respect lift for one another. The children go as they please, and return as they please. God forbid. All types of organizations have been formed to help men rear their children. They are trying to help us understand them. We can yet apply all these principles which are good, but leave out the principles of God, they will miss out on the truth of good living.

We must put the principles of God deep in our heart, then instill them in our children. God wants us all to be in Heaven, he would appreciate it if we would bring our whole families. If they don't come, then you be there.

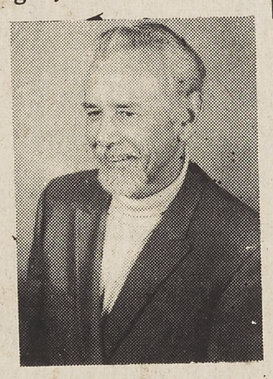
A. E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher

By Clint Porter
(In the absence of Andy Barragan)



A.E. Barragan

I wonder how many of you said a silent prayer Christmas morning when you opened your eyes. I wonder how many of you realized that unless God has been willing, you would have never opened your eyes. I wonder how many of you even thought of it. Christmas morning found Andy back at Community Hospital. For anyone else it may not be serious. But for Andy, any setback requires extra effort just to return to his previous level of complete recovery.

He is under observation because of a very high fever. Fevers can knock the strongest person down. Here is a man who was doing his "dailies" just right; taking his walks, getting his proper rest, not letting small things excite him, and trying to not let business matters enter into his thoughts. But how can a lover not think of his loved one?

Strange, but just last week I repeated a column I wrote several months ago about pulling together. Well, here we go again. Thank you. I had intended passing on to you something I read by Pat Michaels in an article called "Anti-War 'Nuts' Carry Prejudices too Far." This article was undated, but assumed to be recent:

Some little kids in elementary school wrote a friendship letter to the sailors aboard the destroyer USS Cook. There followed more letters and occasionally an exchange of gifts between the youngsters and the lonely sailors. But most of all

CHP To Work Overtime On New Years

California Highway Patrolmen will work overtime throughout the New Year's holiday season, it was announced recently by Capt. Dan Lyons, commander of the CHP's Monterey Area.

All the Patrol's black and white vehicles will be on the road with some of the additional manpower going to those highways where accident rates were unusually high during the Labor Day or Thanksgiving Weekends.

"Just putting the cars out where drivers can see them has proved one of the most effective safety measures the Patrol can take," said Capt. Lyons.

A recent review of fatal accidents on the Thanksgiving holiday weekend indicates that only 15 percent of the people killed who had seat belts available were wearing them.

As a result, patromen will encourage all drivers with whom they have personal contact to make sure both they and their passengers wear belts.

The usual watch for individuals driving while under the influence of alcohol or narcotics, wrong way drivers, tailgaters, those who create bottlemecks by driving too slow in fast freeway lanes, and others who create hazardous conditions will be maintained.

Seaside Gets Tax Revenue

More than $80 million will go this week to the cities and counties of California in the December distribution of local sales and use tax moneys collected by the State Board of Equalization, Board Member George R. Reilly announced today.

The share for the City of Seaside is $48,703.49, and for the County for Monterey is $139,266.83.

Most of the funds come from the Bradley-Burns one percent local sales and use tax payment of $50,339,617 to the cities, and $10,354,640 to the counties; and the 1/4 percent local sales and use tax payment to counties for the county local transportation fund totaling $16,261,284.

In addition, the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BART) 1/2 percent transaction and use tax brought in $3,078,346.

The total $80,110,838 distribution by the Board of Equalization represents cleanup payments for the third quarter of 1972 after making three monthly advances to the cities and counties, and the first advance payment for the fourth quarter of 1972, received from October prepayments by taxpayers.

The present five percent sales tax (5-1/2 percent in BART counties) will rise to six percent effective June 1, 1973, upon the Governor's signing of Senate Bill 90, passed by the 1972 Legislature. But that increase will not result in more revenue for cities and counties, the increase being reflected only in the state's portion of the sales and use taxes, which will go up from the present 313/4 percent to 4-3/4 percent, leaving untouched the present 1-1/4 percent local sales and use tax.

Today's Army NEWS By SSG R. Cardwell ARMY RECRUITER

Hello everybody.

I hope all of you had a Merry Christmas. If you worked in the Medical Field while you were in the Army, or if you are still in and planning to be discharged, I have some good news for you. You can use your military experience for a civilian career through a pilot program at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. The program enables medical corpsmen who will soon be leaving the service or have left in the last three years to take the Emergency Medical Treatment/Ambulance Registry Examination.

Those who pass the exam will be eligible for jobs as Emergency Medical Technicians/Ambulance (EMTA). EMTAs accompany ambulances to the scene of emergencies and administer first aid. As part of the pilot program, the examination will be offered free to the first 100 qualified applicants. Twenty-three soldiers and ex-soldiers have already gotten a free exam. Normally there is a $10 registration fee. To qualify for this program, medics must have at least three to six months' experience in emergency care and rescue service during the past six years.

Examples of qualifying experience are duties as a company aide man in support of a combat operation, a medical service specialist serving as an ambulance attendant and a medical specialist in helicopter evacuation service. During the practical experience test of the examination, medics are given a situation and the equipment to work with, and are allowed to choose their own course of action. A doctor is present to evaluate the action and methods used. Areas most stressed are resuscitation, fractures, bleeding, shock and general knowledge of ambulances and equipment. This training program is very important due to the fact that the first four to six minutes at the scene of an accident can often mean the difference between life and death for the victim.

Under this program not only will the public be assured of highly qualified personnel, but soldiers are also given a better opportunity to use their military experience for a civilian career. Persons interested in more information should contact the Medical Experience Directed Into Health Careers (MEDIHC) coordinator, Project Transition, Fort Bragg, NC. Their phone number is (916) 396-6721.

For more information about TODAY'S ARMY opportunities, please contact us at 431-Webster St. Monterey, or call 372-4742/372-0553. HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!!!

Fort Ord Wife Of Year Named

Mrs. Schimmelman

The Military Wife of the Year for Ft. Ord is Mary Annette Schimmelman, wife of Staff Sergeant Albert J. Schimmelman, a dental laboratory specialist.

Mrs. Schimmelman, better known as Annette throughout the Ft. Ord military community, is president of the Non-Commissioned Officers Wives Club. She is equally active in the military community's neighborhood programs - serving as secretary of the Hayes Elementary School PTA, vice-chairman of the Hayes Community Council, a program chairman in Youth Activities, and member of the Army Community Services Advisory Council.

In the civilian community, she devotes much of her time to the Girl Scout program - serving as Cadette specialist and trainer in the Monterey Bay Girl Scout Council.

Candidates for the Military Wife of the Year title were judged on the basis of their activities in local civilian community efforts as well as post activities, their contributions to inprove people-to-people relationships and objectives that serve mankind, and on their poise and ability to address large audiences and relate their own stories and that of the military community.

Mrs. Schimmelman, having won at Ft. Ord, now will be in competition with winners from other posts for the Sixth Army title.

Runner-up in the contest is Dorces Ann Thornton, wife of Captain Harold B. Thornton, assistant secretary of the general staff at the Combat Developments Experimentation Command.

AIT Ends At Fort Ord

The Department of the Army has announced the elimination of Infantry Advanced Individual Training (AIT) at Ft. Ord.

The elimination of Infantry AIT responsibilities at Ft. Ord while not directly resulting in the loss of any civilian jobs, may create some personnel turbulence among the military.

This action will result in elimination of a brigade headquarters, two battalion headquarters and nine training companies.

Approximately 530 permanent party personnel will be absorbed into the remaining Basic and Combat Support training structure. Others will be utilized as instructors in anticipation of a projected increase in input of WAC trainees in the Basic Administration Course. The few remaining personnel will be reported to Department of the Army as excess and will be subject to transfer to other posts.

Seaside Ripples

warmth and understanding was generated. When the USS Cook arrived in a nearby port after long months at sea, the kids invited the crew to come and see their school and their town. Although tired and anxious to return to their home towns, the sailors just couldn't disappoint the kids, so they accepted. It was a big day for the youngsters. They showed the sailors their city, hosted them to lunch, and then beneath the flagpole on the campus of the College they held the one big event.

The big husky men in blue at attention. And, beside them, the 10-year-olds. The kids were proud as a resolution by the City Council was read, adopting the sailors and their ship on behalf of the City. There were even tears in the eyes of some of the kids. There were tears in the eyes of some of the sailors.

Then it happened. The scene was spoiled. Vulgarity from the crowd of college students. There were even cries of "Go Home!"

Later in the day a special meeting was called. "Intellectuals" met. Dissidents and protestors were there. And they were angry. To them it was not a scene with lonely sailors, a long way from home making little kids happy in a strange town. No, it was a scheme, a plot, a sinister design to support the "Nixon was policy."

So they started making placards and signs and sending out the word for a demonstration. The demonstration startled and frightened the City Council. Placards read, "Orphan the Cook," or "End the War!" or any number of popular expressions of disagreement.

The Mayor was the first to back-track on the Council's resolution. He told the demonstrators, "I support your policy. I couldn't in good conscience adopt a war machine." Other councilmen remained firm. Some even planned to visit the college to try to change the student's mind. The students promised to come back until the "Cook is orphaned." Meanwhile, elementary school teachers and some parents are trying to explain what's happened to the children, and trying to prepare them, because they might have to write their Navy friends on the Cook to say they are not adopted after all.

And, you have to wonder, if the men of the USS Cook, far at sea -- men, who themselves may not have wanted to be there -- will find it hard to understand.

Last week I visited the "Garden Pavilion" at Community Hospital. There is a section down there where young people live. Some walked in on their own, most of them were either sent or brought. These young people live there for one specific reason: Looking for a Direction.

Somehow, somewhere in their young life something happened. They were not strong enough to withstand the downdraft. So they are at Community Hospital receiving excellent care and refreshing freedom of expression. They have "rap sessions" among themselves on subjects of their choice. One evening a young man told me that he came in on his own because he had lost his dream and in so doing began to hate himself for losing it. He came there in search of a way to find it again. I told him not to worry about it, some people go for a long time without dreaming. I suggested to him to invision himself as being completely relaxed....completely....not a care or worry in his mind. In doing so his mind being relaxed, can dream. Do not accept it. He will recognize it, don't worry. And when it returns, he will again love himself. I also told him that he must keep in mind that finding the dream is important because he can never love anyone else until he loves himself again.

A young girl raised her hand and asked me to tell her about Reality House. She said someone told her it was worse than a prison. I asked her if she was unhappy at her home. She answered, yes. So I told her what I knew about Reality House, and assured her that it was far from a prison. I even told her of the possibility of finding a life-long friend among one of the other girls she would be living with; and she liked that part. The space on the page is telling me to call it quits. I just talked with Andy on the phone, he may be home before the paper hits the streets, so my just thinking of your helping triggered another miracle. God bless you all.

Chamber of Commerce Progress Report

by Verlaine Crawford, Executive Director

The Christmas Decoration Contest Awards Ceremony at City Hall on Wednesday, December 20, was fun for all concerned. Mayor Joe Dolan Council Member Billie Barton and I had the pleasure of presenting trophies, certificates and cash awards to the winners.

The first place winner in the Commercial category was Broadway Florist and Emporium, 855 Broadway; second place was Goodwill Industries at 729 Broadway; and third was Walter's Fashion for Men and Boys at 1884 Fremont Blvd. Faith Lutheran Chruch, 1460 Hilby St., received a certificate for Outstanding Service to the Community.

First place winner in the Blocks and Courts category was the 1100 Block of Luxton Street. They won $75 for their beautiful display. Luxton Street with first place and an award of $50. Second place was Danny Badong at 1808 Nadina St. with an award of $25. Also in second place with an award of $25 was Albert Plantz at 1199 Luxton.

Third place in Single Residential was Chester Wilcox at 1158 Luxton Court with an award of $15. Fourth place was Joseph Ostendorf at 1515 Lowell St., awarded $10. Fifth place was Bert Aiello at 1166 Luxton St. with honorable mention.

At last night's meeting of the City Council, the businessmen in the Ord Terrace Shopping Center succeeded in making some minor revisions on the Channelization Plan for Fremont Blvd. The original plan called for eliminating three parking speces on the frontage road in front of the shopping center.

After a short meeting on Wednesday and discussion at the Agenda Session of the Council on Thursday, representatives of the Ord Terrace businessmen, Fred Mitchell and Art Sampognaro, plus Mark Sincoff and myself from the Chamber of Commerce reached a compromise decision with Council Members. Ord Terrace will now lose only one parking space, which is eliminated to help traffic flow into the parking area. Also it was suggested by Mr. Art Sampognaro of Ord Terrace Television that a narrow sidewalk should be placed along the edge of the planters, so that passengers getting out of cars would not step into the plant area.

The Council was very receptive and voted to maintain the two parking spaces and to place the narrow sidewalk along the planters. Council members again encouraged businessmen to attend the meetings of the Council to express opinions and make comments.

I have just now learned that a gas main was broken by the contractors in the process of working on the Fremont Channelization Project. The traffic has been routed through the Auto Center. What can one say? I am sure that the person who accidently did this is sorry, that the contractor is sorry, that the City is sorry. I, too, am sorry.

May the Spirit of Christmas bring joy into your life, and may the New York be Bright for you and your family.

And a Happy New Year

The President is censoring the press and the radio stations. He has stepped up the bombing in Viet Nam. He is purging forces on capital hill.

The space program is ended. We can't afford space, but we can afford war and a larger than ever Pentagon budget.

Cuba has outlawed Christmas. Irish "Christians" are still killing each other. The Soviet Union begins a major crackdown on dissent.

Assasinations and attemped assasinations are getting more numerous. Skyjackings are greater than ever. It is revealed that many name celebrities and government notables have been on Amphetamines.

Taxes keep going up, prices go up, and quality is declining at a rate which is incredable. And the best goes on, and on, and on.

Happy New Year! It takes a real optimist to face 1973 with an honest smile. And I don't meet to many of them, especiallyaround this time of year.

Yet, through it all, if you look deeply enough, will see hope. You will be able to see a bit of God in every man, even if he does his best to cover it up. To see people and life with faith, hope and love, a man must be able to grow up. Or better said, the selfish ego must be replaced with a purified sould which knows it is a spark of God, which knows that every man has that divine spark within him, which knows there is absolute purpose and order in the Universe, though we can't at all times percieve it because of our subjective and narrow perception.

Only one who is mentally and spiritually nature can see hope in the future, especially in these troubled times. He understands, because he has lived to a point in life experiences where the pieces of the puzzle of life fit together. When a man is at this point in his evolution, he has gained wisdom, that understanding which is so much more than "knowledge." And no one in this world can give this wisdom to you, it simply comes one day when you are READY for it.

He who is wise will not dread this new year, neigher will he ignore it in apathy. He will, in the terms of the "hip" culture "just keep on truckin."

May each and every one of our readers awake to ture life in the coming year. Mission Possible wishes you a happy and peaceful new year.

When you have finished with your copy of The POST, pass it along to a friend or relative.

Your Mayor Reports

Joe Dolan

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Seaside's prospects for a Happy New Year are very bright and we can be assured of continued progress. Several challenging and complex problems will be requiring us to make carefully considered decisions early in 1973.

Sewage, its disposal, and the potential of total water reclamation is a serious problem that involves all of the Monterey Peninsula. Comprehensive studies are on-going so that practical and economically feasible plans, hopefully, will be implemented. Costs are ever escalating and we learned last week that $160,000 will have to be applied to our Seaside County Sanitation District plant to bring it up to the required current standards.

By mid-year, we should have "ground breaking" ceremony for our new Post Office at the Broadway - Terrace Street site. Our City staff is coordinating the plans with the Postal Service and we will probably have several public hearings to discuss all aspects of this project. You are encouraged to attend these meetings and contribute your views.

New Library - We are still actively pursuing this project to qualify our City for a half million dollar grant. Economic Development Administration has indicated that a review of our preliminary plans - for the library - will be accomplished during January 1973.

Laguna Brande Project and K-Mart - Widespread community support for this project is very evident. Barring unknown obstacles as a result of Proposition 20, we should break ground for K-Mart in September.

New City Budget - The staff is diligently working on a projected five (5) year plan. It is still too early to forecast a reduction in our tax levy but our goal is to reduce the $1.95 base to at least $1.75 for next year.

Some good news for our military retirees. The California legislature has voted to reinstate the 1,000 military retired pay exemption for state income tax returns due in 1974. This action will restore after a two-year lapse, a provision that was inadvertently dropped in the closing days of the 1971 session. The provision exempts the first $1,000 in military retired pay.

I am very optimistic about Seaside's future as Seaside does mean business! We are pulling together, and with God's help, we will all have a happy and prosperous NEW YEAR!

As I See It

BY MEL VERCOE

Has your dog been putting on weight lately? Well, according to a recent news item it probably is not because he has suddenly acquired a flock of fleas, because somebody has calculated that it would take well over a million of them to weigh one pound, and it is quite unusual to find a dog with more than eight or ten thousand on him.

Another news item I found interesting was the reaction of kindly old Aristotle Onasis when he found out some photographers had managed to snap some photos of Jackie on a beach in the nude. He explained ti by simply saying that both he and his wife (Jackie) sometimes remove their clothing in order to change into their swim suits, and ever since I read that item I have been wondering if there is some way of changing from street clothing to swim wear without removing the clothing as a first step.

So some money-hungry photographers got some long range photos of the ex-wife of a popular former President, and some depraved citizens will pay good American money for trashy magazines.

All of which could almost but not quite make a guy think Ronald Reagan and the John Birchers could be right about our morality going down the drain, and we wonder if any of it would have happened if Jackie Onassis had weighed about three hundred pounds instead of being a bit on the skinny side.

But the best news of all just came from New Oreleans. A firm is going to build a twenty story building for outdoor camping. The first eight floors will be for parking. The upper twelve floors will be open to the outside air and will have spaces for camp trailers with artifical grass and barbeque facilities. And on the roof will be a swimming pool. Just imagine, a beautiful view, a clean swimming hole, no ants and best of all, right downtown.

And here all these years I thought my ideas about replacing regular trees with artificial leaves and blossoms was an idea whose time had not yet come. Enough people thought my idea about making trees out of telephone and electric poles was timely enough that the P.G.& E. was asked to put their poles underground in many areas, but now-wow - if we can go camping twenty floors off the ground maybe we can get Carmel to yank their trees out of parking places and hang them from wires where they belong.

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) I plan to take the standard deduction on my 1972 Federal income tax return. Can I still deduct the political contribution I made this year?

A) No. You may deduct political contributions only if you itemize your deductions. However, you may take a credit against your income tax of one-half of your political contributions up to $12.50, if you are single, or $25, if married, filing jointly. This credit may not exceed the tax on line 18 of your Form 1040, less the amount of any retirement income credit, investment credit and foreign tax credit you might have.

Q) Is it true that corrections are being performed during returns processing at Internal Revenue Service Centers?

A) Yes. The Internal Revenue Service has initiated a program to correct unallowable items identified on returns during processing. If your return contains an unallowable item you will receive a letter of explanation from the Service Center. However, if you feel you have a legitimate claim to the deduction, you may either submit additional information by mail or request that your return be transferred to your district office for an interview. You do not have to agree to the proposed correction without a hearing.

Q) When must I pay the balance of my 1972 estimated tax?

A) You have until Jan. 15, 1973, to pay your last installment of estimated tax. However, if you file an individual income tax return, Form 1040, on or before Jan. 31, 1973, paying the full amount of tax due for 1972, you will not have to pay your last installment.

Q) I plan to sell off some of my losing stocks at the end of the year. Can I buy them back in January and still deduct the stock losses on my 1972 return?

A) No. When you sell stocks or securities at a loss and within 30 days, you buy them back (or acquire a contract or option to buy them) so that you continue to hold substantially identical stock, a wash sale occurs. Losses from such transactions are not deductible. Note, however, that the gains from wash sales are taxable.

For more details, see IRS Publication 550, "Tax Information on Investment Income and Expenses." It's available free by writing your Internal Revenue district office.

Q) Each Christmas my employer gives me a turkey. Do I have to include the value of this gift in my income?

A) No. If, to promote goodwill, your employer makes a general distribution of turkeys, hams, or other items of merchandise of nominal value at Christmas or another holiday, the value of those gifts is not income.

However, if your employer distributes cash, gift certificates, or similar items of readily convertible cash value, the value of such gifts is additional salary or wages.

Q) I moved last May. How can I be sure the Internal Revenue Service will send my tax forms to my new address?

A) Just leave your new address with the post office in your old neighborhood. The post office will forward the forms to you. When you get your 1972 income tax return, be sure to correct your address on the label in your tax return packet.

If you do not receive your tax forms package in the mail, you can obtain blank forms at any IRS office, most banks and post offices.

Q) My employer is transferring me to another state. What are the rules for deducting moving expenses?

A) In general, your moving expenses are deductible if you satisfy certain distance and time requirements. The distance between your new place of work and your old residence must be at least 50 miles farther than the distance from your old residence to your old place of work. Secondly, during the 12-month period immediately after your arrival in the general area of your new place of work, you must have worked full-time for at least 39 weeks. If you are self-employed, a different time requirement applies.

For more details, write your Internal Revenue district office and ask for a free copy of IRS Publication 521, "Tax Information on Moving Expenses."

Q) Both my wife and I are having dental work done and I'm going to have a big medical expense deduction this year. Is there any way to get some kind of benefit for this now to help me pay some of the bills?

A) Yes. You may be able to have your employer reduce your income tax withholding based on the larger itemized deductions you expect. Instructions for making this change are given on Form W-4. Ask your employer or your local IRS office for a copy.

Bob Wood Reports

It's a sure bet that one of the more popular subjects for legislation in the upcoming 1973 session will be in the consumer protection area. A good many bills were introduced and passed during 1972, and the consumer advocates have had their appetites whetted for new reforms in the years to come. But I don't believe I'm alone when I mention that like everything else we can go too far in this area.

The problem is that some (not all) consumer advocates are misleading the public with a barrage of sensational half-truths and innuendoes. They are intent on protecting the public against practices and products it might be willing to accept if it knew all the facts.

These misled consumers, along with some who represent them in government, seem willing to embrace solutions to problems they do not fully understand, nor even want to. The situation in some cases has become so distorted that sensationalism is given greater credence than is solid scientific fact.

A classic example of this problem can be seen in the U.S. Senate version of the proposed "Save Drinking Water Act." It advocates a national drinking water council of 15 "qualified scientists," none of whom have any economic interest in the supplying of drinking water or the regulation thereof. This means that anyone with a first-hand knowledge of water supply cannot serve on the council. A more useful application of this approach might be to bar lawyers from participating in lawmaking, or men with an agricultural background from serving on an agruicultural commission, or a former teacher serving on a school board.

Consumer protection is needed in some areas, I am sure we will all agree with this. Recent laws we have passed in California and other states have cut considerably the frequency of bill-padding and other schemes in the auto and electronics repair industries. Consumers have but to pick up a telephone and complain to a State or local agency if they feel they have been cheated.

It would appear to me that we should proceed with caution in this area and study very carefully the sometimes hysterical charges and claims that are designed to "protect" the consumer.

Rationing Of Gas Is Suggested

SAN FRANCISCO-- A proposal to ration gasoline in six Southern California counties was included in the federal Environmental Protection Agency's plan prepared in its San Francisco office.

Admittedly a last-ditch measure, the proposal was seen as the only way to satisfy strict federal air quality standards. Rationing of gasoline would prevent 198 tons of hydrocarbons from entering the air daily.

ALLEN AND WASHINGTON

Nehwanda Allen and Sergeant William (Tesi) Washington were united in marriage on Saturday, November 25, at the First Baptist Church of Pacific Grove. Rev. Richard Nance, Jr. officiated the four o'clock ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Allen of Seaside, wore a floor length gown made of bridal satin, which featured the finger tip sleeves, lace and ruffle trimmed bodice and victoria neckline. The skirt had a wide panel in front which was edged in lace. Her illusion floor length veil was held in place by a satin and lace cap. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, lavander baby roses and lavander orchids.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Jacquelyn Carter, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Gail Dansby, couson of the bride, Bobbie Blakeney, Cheotele Gilliam, Rita Diggs, all of Seaside and Joyce Griffin and Joyce Jackson, both of San Luis Obispo. Flower girl was Vivian Carter, niece of the bride. The bride's attendants wore loose fitting floor-length cover-ups with attached hoods and flared full length sleeves. These were all made by the talented bride.

The bridegroom is the son of Master Sergeant (ret) and Mrs. Booker T. Washington of Seaside. He chose his brother, Edward Washington, to serve as best man. Ushers were Robert Gilliam, William Parker IV, Howard Ross, all of Seaside and Thurman Lewis, Dean Hunter and Jerome Davis of San Jose. Ring-bearer was Leo Carter, nephew of the bride.

The new Mrs. Washington, graduated from Seaside High School in 1971. She attended California Polytechnical State University at San Luis Obispo last year, and plans to return to school in January. She was also a 1971 debutant, presented by the Monterey Peninsula Cotillian League.

Sergeant Washington is presently serving a tour of duty in the United States Army at Fort Ord.

A reception immediately following the wedding was held at El Estero Hall in Monterey. The newlyweds honeymooned in Southern California. They are making their first home in Monterey.

RED AND WHITE BALL

The Les Grand Coeurs held their thirteenth annual Red and White Christmas Ball on Saturday, December 19, at Cerrito's Neptune's Table on the Monterey Wharf.

Eleven members dressed in beautiful floor length red gowns were introduced. President of the organization is Mrs. Dolores Jamerson Walker of Seaside.

Toys brought by guests were distributed to needy families.

CHRISTMAS PARTIES

Mrs. Leticia McSween of Monterey hosted a delightful Christmas champagne sip in the La Grande Room, Holiday Inn on Del Monte Beach, Sunday, December 10 from 4 to 7 p.m.

The guests enjoyed their gracious hostess, an array of plentiful hors d' oeuvres and the music for dancing, which was provided by "Just Us."

Among the 75 guests attending were San Miller, Joanne Miles, Ben Mitchell and Tana Harris, all of Oakland, Leticia Rosemond and Anthony Brewer of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Turner and their daughter, Sandra, of San Jose.

The Los Elegantes held their second annual Christmas Party in the home of Mrs. W.J. Evans on Friday, December 15. Approximately 65 guests enjoyed the evening of fun and laughter. There was lots of food and drinks to keep guests happy, enjoying the company of each other and dancing. The Evan's had their home beautifully decorated, which put everyone in the Christmas spirit.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown of Monterey entertained with the Christmas spirit in their newly remodeled family room, which even has a dance floor. Their guests had a wonderful time with them on Saturday, December 9.

Lieutenant Richard C. Dolson, honor student in the Aeronautical Engineering Program, has been selected to continue his education toward a doctorate degree at the Naval Poatgraduate School.

Lt. Dolson received his Bachelor of Science Degree from Purdue University in 1966, and is presently working toward his Master's Degree at the Postgraduate School.

Holiday Foods Can Harm Dog

The holiday season may be a merry one for man, but it can be an unhealthy one for his best friend, observes the Gaines Dog Research Center.

The family dog's troubles often begin immediately after a holiday dinner, when he becomes a receptacle for leftovers from the family feast. In addition to the danger of a sharp poultry bone doing damage to his digestive tract, spicy foods and rich desserts also take their toll.

For dog owners who feel the family pet should have a special holiday meal, the Center recommends that poultry meat, giblets or gravy be mixed with his regular dog food. The soft-moist foods are especially convenient during the busy holiday season and they help assure that a pet continues to receive the balanced diet he needs.

New Handbook Is Guide For Parents Of School Children

MORRISTOWN, N.J.--What can parents do it their children don't like school and aren't doing well? How can parents deal with the school system? What can parents provide that is important for their children's education?

"Getting It Together At Home", a compact, how-to-do-it paperback published to sell for 60 cents by the General Learning Corporation, this month, is the first book that talks directly to center-city parents and deals honestly with the realities of inner-city homes, facilities and lifestyles.

Written so that parents with limited education can read the book without difficulty, its practical solutions can be implemented by every parent. Emphasis is placed on parental involvement in the child's TOTAL EDUCATION.

"Getting It Together at Home" provides parents with concrete suggestions on such matters as homework, health, parent-child conversations, work attitudes, school visits, report cards, discussions with teachers and administrators, working with other parents, educational opportunities within the community and ways in which parents can build reading and math skills using the home and neighborhood as learning centers.

The first book in a new four-volume series entitled "Partners in Urban Education", "Getting It Together At Home" was researched and written by Mrs. Barbara Thompson Howell, director of GLC's Urban Education Research Group in cooperation with consultants from the Black and Spanish-speaking communities. It is available in English and in Two Spanish translations--for Puerto Rican and Chicano parents.

Three additional titles in the series will be published in early 1973: "Working as an Aide in an Inner City School," "Teaching the Inner City Child" and "A Handbook for Administrators".
